This topographic map shows the Fagerlia area in Norway. A blue line indicates a watercourse flowing from the northwest towards the southeast. A green circle highlights the Fagerlia farm area, which is situated near the intersection of the watercourse and a road. The map includes numerous labels for geographical features, including Skjenholet, Ramseylan, Fagerlia, Almosen, and Almosenveien. The terrain is characterized by contour lines indicating elevation, with peaks such as Rogndalskammen (212m) and Rognlia (174m) visible. The map also shows several roads, including the E6 and various local roads like 120, 122, and 124.
